BRAND SYSTEM v1.2 | DE STIJL MODERNISM | WOMEN'S PRO SPORTS | PRODUCTION READY

PAY -BY- PLAY

Does pay follow play, and does the pay structure change the answer?

A cross-league econometrics and decision-support layer for women's professional sports leagues (PWHL hockey, WNBA basketball, and WPL cricket).

01 / FOUNDATION

Brand Purpose & Modernist Geometry

Pay-by-Play exists at the intersection of labor econometrics and athletic performance. The visual identity is anchored in the principles of De Stijl (The Style) — pioneered by Piet Mondrian and Gerrit Rietveld — which uses asymmetric rectilinear grids, pure primary colors, and bold structural framing to convey mathematical honesty and structural integrity.

METRIC MAPPING 01

Pay vs. Play

Pay (Blue) represents the financial baseline, disclosed salary bands, and cap constraints. Play (Red) represents on-field box score production and game-level value.

THE VALUE GAP 02

The Surplus Signal

Canary Yellow is reserved for the gap metric (value_pct – pay_pct). It signals surplus value, confident bargains, and players whose production outruns their paycheck.

ATHLETIC GRID 03

Pitch & Court Lines

Structural ink lines echo both financial data tables and sports playing surfaces: the hockey goal crease, the basketball key, and the cricket batting crease.

02 / LOGO SYSTEM

The Complete Logo Suite

The brand assets are engineered as infinitely scalable vector SVGs and pixel-perfect high-DPI PNGs for cross-platform deployment across web apps, documentation, mobile shortcuts, and print decks.

Palette Hierarchy & Distribution Rule

In any application, maintain the 40–30–15–10–5 balance: 40% Paper White (open breathing room), 30% Structural Ink (data lines, text, framing), 15% De Stijl Red (action callouts, highlights), 10% De Stijl Blue (foundational anchors, payroll bars), and 5% Canary Yellow (focal points, value gap badges, bargains).

04 / TYPOGRAPHY

Type Hierarchy & Font Stack

Typography mirrors the dual nature of the product: aggressive athletic sans-serif headers paired with monospaced precision for statistical percentiles and formulas.

05 / GOVERNANCE

Brand Rules: Do’s and Don’ts

To maintain visual recognition and authoritative econometric presentation, adhere to these guidelines.

STATUS	GUIDELINE	RATIONALE
✓ DO	Always include the –BY– connector in the complete mark.	Reinforces the trademark name and the relationship between compensation and athletic output.
✓ DO	Maintain the 1:1 square aspect ratio on app icons.	Preserves the balanced Mondrian rectilinear cell distribution.
✓ DO	Keep the Play triangle pointing directly forward (to the right).	Represents forward kinetic progress and playback of sports action.
✗ DON'T	Never replace primary colors with gradients or pastels.	De Stijl requires pure, unadulterated primary colors and stark black structural lines.
✗ DON'T	Never remove the outer structural black border.	The outer border contains the geometry and prevents bleeding on light surfaces.
✗ DON'T	Never rotate or skew the logo mark or typography.	All lines must remain purely orthogonal (horizontal and vertical).
